Release announcement: ESET Endpoint Antivirus for Linux 9.0.5.0

2022-03-16 - Steef | ESET Nederland - Comments (0) - Releases

I would like to inform you that today ESET Endpoint Antivirus for Linux 9.0 was released.

This major release includes mainly new features such as integration with ESET Enterprise Inspector, Custom scan in the application GUI, adding support of Ubuntu 20.04 MATE Desktop, and additional functionalities in 'odscan' utility. More detailed information is available in the changelog below.

Release details:

- Release date: 16 March 2022
- Product: ESET Endpoint Antivirus for Linux - 9.0.5.0
- Type: Major release
- Availability: Global excl. Japan

Changelog:

- Added: ESET Enterprise Inspector support
- Added: On-demand scan feature in application GUI
- Added: Ubuntu 20.04 LTS Mate desktop support
- Added: Scan information available when using odscan utility
- Added: On-demand scan logs displayed per user
- Fixed: A potential vulnerability in the on-access scanner - reported internally (CVE-2022-0615)
- Fixed: Real-time File System Protection blocking Desktop Central Agent
- Fixed: Settings not reflected properly when using cfg utility
- Fixed: Problems with product update when using Turkish locale
- Fixed: Issues with a protection status and expiration when using offline license
- Fixed: Incorrectly displayed strings in GUI when not supported locale is used
- Fixed: Meta data not deleted during log optimization process
- Fixed: Issues with handling non-UTF paths in running scans
- Other bug fixes and minor improvements

Builds are available on the official web or repository.