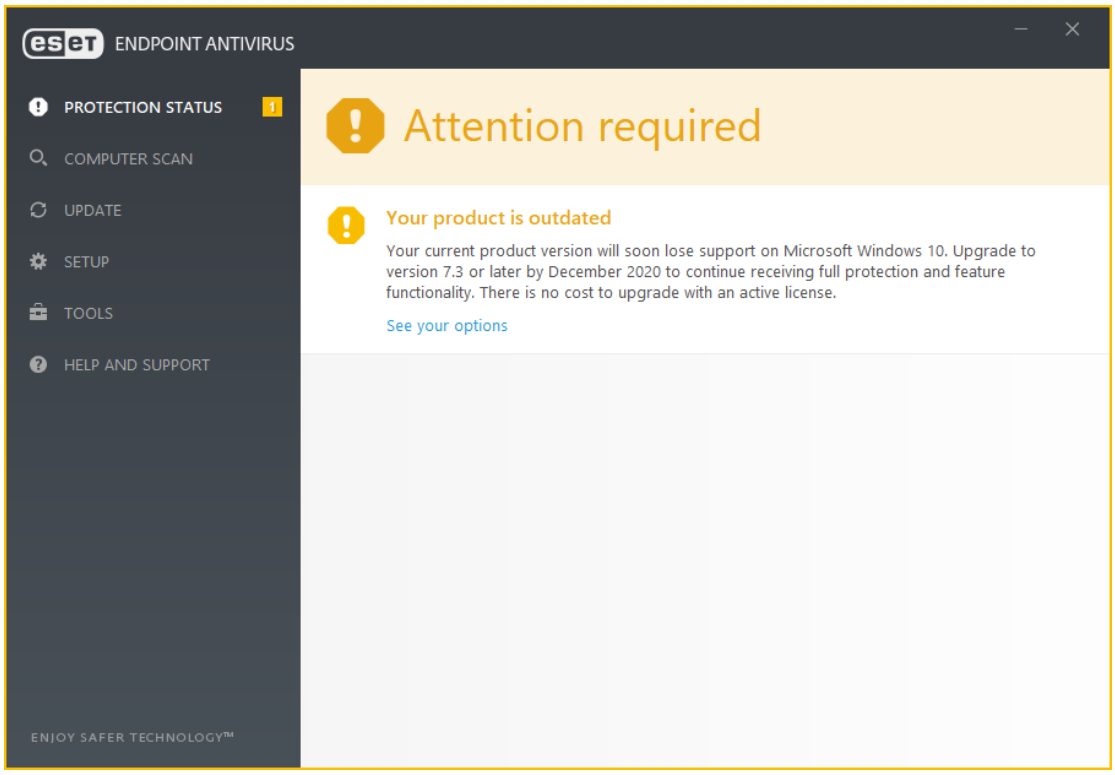
End of Life (EOL) issues requiring your immediate attention.

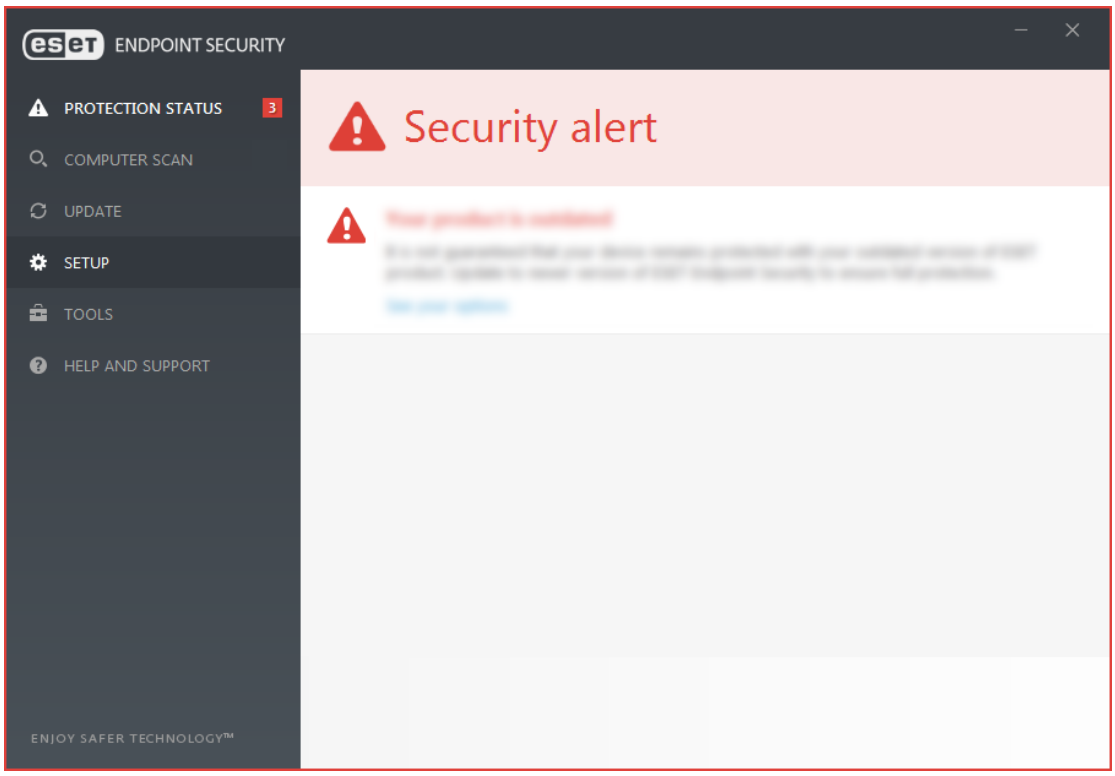
As of now in-product messages will be shown regarding the two following issues:

- Prepare for future Windows 10 updates with ESET. As Windows evolves, Microsoft is deprecating some functionality essential for ESET products to be functional. It will happen in the first half of 2021 with the upcoming Windows update. More information can be found here: https://techcenter.eset.nl/en/kb/articles/prepare-for-future-windows-10-updates-with-eset
- Running ESET business products from 2019 or older on any Windows operating system (6.6, 7.0, 7.1; Cross Certification). More information can be found here: https://techcenter.eset.nl/en/kb/articles/running-eset-business-products-from-2019-or-older-on-any-windows-operating-system-6-6-7-0-7-1-

The following notifications are shown in-product. These in-product messages cannot be supressed via application status. Currently the only method to suppress these notifications is to configure the user interface in Silent mode.



If you do not upgrade your ESET product on Windows 10, the protection status of your ESET product will turn Yellow in September 2020, informing you about the need to upgrade to the latest version to address this compatibility issue.



The protection status of your ESET product will turn Red early next year (2021) as a last reminder.
